

TOP TIPS FROM THE FIRST NATIONS FOUNDATION

"If you own a car, you definitely need to have insurance. I have full comprehensive car insurance, that way I am covered if someone hits me or vice versa.

As a homeowner I also have home insurance. This covers me if something happens, for example a house fire broke out, I would be able to fix or rebuild my house.

I also pay contents insurance for all the items in my house. This includes everything from cutlery to the refrigerator. This is separate from home insurance.

It's important to read over your policy to make sure it is right for you."

Destiny Dewis, Project Officer

Tomorrow MONEY
